It's all in the delivery.

Introducing PostID, the revolutionary new way to help solve your package process problems. Rising labour costs and an increase in exceptional items continue to be a heavy burden on the mail express and courier industries. However, with PostID you have a completely configurable and adaptive toolkit to help effectively meet your unique business requirements.

Weighing and calculating the volumetrics of mail items can be a laborious and time consuming task, even more so if you are manually entering addresses and delivery instructions for every item. PostID cuts out labour intensive tasks and helps to improve the efficiency of your operations.

Because time is money.

By improving the efficiency of postage operations, PostID are looking to save the industry millions of pounds. Our powerful and customisable toolkit allows you to replace manual tasks at a fraction of the cost traditionally associated with automation. PostID creates rapid process improvements for a cost that you'll struggle to beat and with bespoke solutions for single operators, even small businesses can save.

Signed, sealed, delivered.

PostID has been developed to not only be effective, but easy to use too. You simply scan the address, share the data and send. With our patented address and data capture technology, we can help you automate your manual processes.

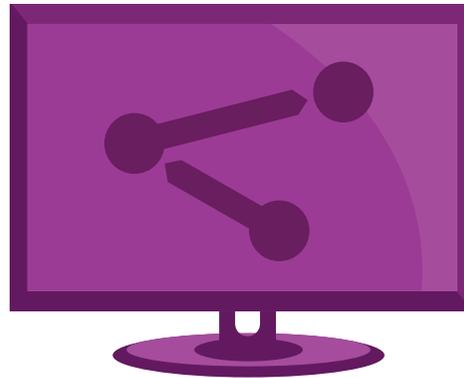

Whereas, before you would have to type up every detail and write out each and every name and address, PostID has digitised the whole process with an intuitive touchscreen interface. Just follow these 3 simple steps and handle your exceptional items with ease.

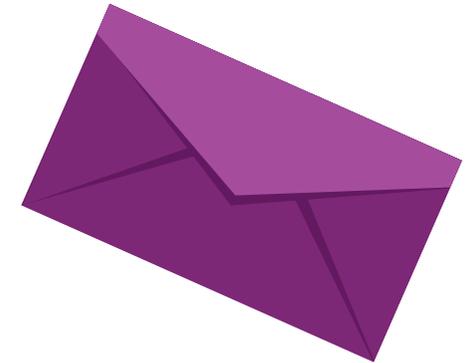

SCAN

Simply use the scanner to instantly capture addresses and data with minimum effort. PostID can also integrate with existing automated systems.

SHARE

Information is shared between you and other clients in a corporate data exchange. Everything from route to price can be calculated instantly.

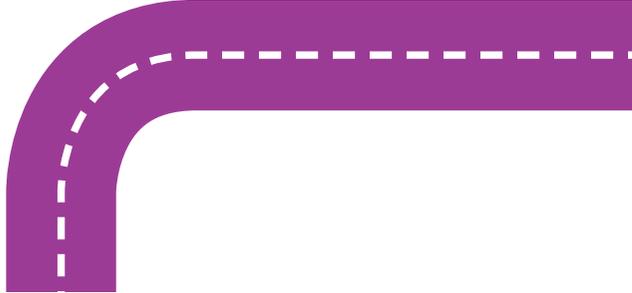

SEND

Your item can now be sent! By capturing the data required to manifest it, you can track it, safe in the knowledge you will get paid for delivering it.

The last post.

Millions of exceptional items make their way through hubs every year and their handling becomes a lengthy and costly process. PostID aims to provide you with greater efficiency and to dramatically cut your costs. PostID can help with most logistic operations such as:

MANIFEST
CREATION
& VALIDATION

DATA ENTRY

TRACKING & RELABELLING

REVENUE PROTECTION

From scan to send takes only seconds and can help to revolutionise your organisation whilst increasing revenue.

The system is highly configurable, so whatever the main focus of your operations are, PostID can be tailored to perfectly model your scenario. Exceptional items shouldn't cost you and with PostID your work will no longer be undervalued.
